

Alongside the best young talents in the world

Giblor's confirms its partnership with S.Pellegrino on the occasion of the Grand Finale of S.Pellegrino Young Chef Academy Competition 2019-21, the most exciting talent search for young chefs in the world.

An event of international significance and of great prestige, in which Giblor's is happy to participate and enthusiastically supports and for which has created the uniforms for each category of professionals involved. A precious opportunity to promote Italian excellence around the world.

For the young chefs competing, Giblor's has reserved the Raphael jacket with silver buttons, in the exclusive Luxsatin fabric, characterized by a mandarin collar and a breathable mesh back. A garment that embodies functionality and elegance, perfect for the occasion. The Jury and Mentor will instead wear a refined pair of jackets, Vincent and Marilyn, made of Tencel, a highly innovative fabric with excellent performance. The garments, also with a mandarin collar and breathable mesh, will guarantee a perfect fit and an impeccable style, both sober and refined. For the other young chefs who will attend the competition, Patrick and Rose have been selected, a pair of garments with a modern line in 100% cotton gabardine, with French collar and contrasting piping. Three careful choices, designed to enhance the elegance of the chefs in a context of such prestige, and ensure them maximum comfort throughout the duration of the event.

Giblor's is an entrepreneurial project born in 1977 in Carpi, a famous manufacturing district linked to fashion, with the specific desire to build an industrial company with an artisan matrix, projected into the future but firmly centered on the Italian tailoring tradition. Giblor's is today a multinational company that operates with pride and determination in the global market, challenging the competition from all over the world. It designs and produces professional clothing collections that blend innovative technologies, total quality and Italian design, offering superior service and a range of products with a great personality.